

FREE WEBINAR

East African recovery support

7.26.21

3 - 4 PM (CT)

About the Webinar:

Are you a professional working with East African individuals struggling with substance use disorders? Are you an individual graduating soon from treatment and excited to go on to your next chapter to recovery? In this webinar, I will discuss what that looks like, and what resources are available to help East African individuals sustain recovery at the community level. I know you are scared, anxious and excited; let's connect on ways to help you be successful in your long term recovery goals. Presented by Farhia Budul, Founder and Executive Director of Niyah Recovery Initiative.

Zoom Info:

Webinar ID: 864 7098 8254

Passcode: recovery

This webinar is brought to you by:

Healing Together

Steve Rummel
HOPE NETWORK

Registration:

To register for this free webinar, visit: www.rummelHOPE.org/webinar

About the Speaker:

Farhia Budul (Farheeya Buuduul) is a certified Peer Recovery Specialist, certified prevention professional who is widely recognized as a leader with regard to Substance use disorders and recovery advocacy and service delivery. Budul, a person with lived experience of Substance Use Disorder and recovery, is a fierce voice for the unmet recovery needs of Minnesota's BIPOC communities.

Currently the Founder and Executive Director of Niyah Recovery Initiative, the first Recovery Community organization in the nation to help the East African/Muslim community with raising awareness and education, pretreatment initiation, intervention, and helping clients sustain recovery after treatment. Budul is passionate about recovery and bridging the gap to long term recovery.